Your students will absolutely love Rainforest Adventure! You can book it as a virtual or live show. Length: 45 minutes. Perfect for K to 6th grade. This show is a field trip to the Earth's incredible rainforests.

The presenter, Lee Ognibene, is an award-winning retired science teacher and videographer who has produced his own professional video to demonstrate the unique plants and animals of the rainforest. You will see Lee in the video many times as he shows the students the wonders of the rainforest. It features beautiful Hi-Definition video of the rainforest animals and plants and has a music soundtrack that includes Lee's narration. You'll feel like you were really there in the rainforest!

Your students will learn how climate change, loggers and hunters are harming the rainforest's exotic plants and animals (deforestation and species extinction). The show also explains the many life cycles and energy cycles that make the rainforest a unique environment that act like the "lungs of the Earth." The show includes an interactive activity where students will be challenged to decide which rainforest animals depend on each other for food- (the food chain). Expect rave reviews!
